ECHO Housing is looking for individuals who want to help us stamp out housing discrimination.

Our Fair Housing Counselors document complaints of housing discrimination and investigate complaints. We train Testers to pose as home seekers, collect information, and report back to us about their experiences.

Testers work as independent contractors for ECHO on an as-needed, on-call basis. The frequency with which testers are called is determined by the types of cases investigated.

Compensation for the project is $45 per test and 45 cents per mile.

ECHO Housing cannot accept trainees with previous drug, perjury, or felony convictions.
